The First Tie.

The House indulged in quite a lively debate on Friday while considering the bill granting certain powers to incorporated cities, the first bill introduced in the House.
The discussion arose on that section which gives power to all cities alike in regard to the management and control of the liquor business. Motion after motion was lost; and amendments that were adopted were considered closely, and changed the bill very materially.
The House seemed very evenly divided on the question, as division after division was called for, and on one occasion there was a tie vote which had to be decided by the Speaker, and which was the first tie of this session.AGREEABLE, BALSAMIC, quickly

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

COUNCIL.

Jan. 27th, 10 a.m.

After roll call and prayer by the chaplain, the committee on revenue reported that C. F. 11, an act licensing and regulating the sale of liquors, had been amended by them.
The report being accepted the substitute bill was laid on the table to come up in its order.The committee on printing reported that they had had printed seventy-five copies of C. F. 12, a bill in relation to mortgages of personal property, and that they were now in the hands of the Council.
The report was accepted and the bill laid on the table to come up in its order.The committee on judiciary reported back C. F. 13, an act establishing public holidays. The report being accepted, the bill was placed on its passage. It was read the second and third times and passed.The House notified the Council that they had passed H. F. 7, a bill for an act to amend section 1, chapter xxv, of the Laws of 1880. The bill provides for the fencing of city lots, orchards and gathered crops. It was read and referred to the committee on agriculture, trade and manufactures.A bill to: an act to restrain the running at large or herding of sheep within three miles of settlements or dairies between the first days of March and September; prescribing penalties in the shape of fines for so doing, and requiring that the proceeds of these fines be applied to district schools. Sheep, however, may be driven through any village or town on their way between different places. The bill
manufactures.A bill for an act to consolidate the school districts of Salt Lake City, and to create a board of education in their place, was presented by Councilor Caine.This bill provides that all the property owned by the present school districts shall vest in and become the property of the new district, and shall be held in trust for the benefit of the schools, and controlled by the board of education.Each present school district will be a sub-district of the new one, and the school buildings and the property therein shall be in charge of a local janitor, appointed by the board. The trustees now in office will, within thirty days from the time appointed for holding the next annual school meeting, turn over the school property in their possession, and their official accounts, to the new board, which will consist of the mayor of the city, the county superintendent of schools of Salt Lake County, and five trustees, one of which will be chosen from each municipal ward.Their qualifications will be, that they must be men of experience and education, and be elected by the qualified electors of the city and hold office for two years. The act prescribes that the members of the board must give bonds to the satisfaction of the City Council and commence their official duties on the second Monday in June, 1882.Their duties are defined, one of which is to establish, as soon as practicable one or more intermediate schools in each municipal ward; before building the plans and specifications must be presented to the City Council, and when approved by them, they are authorized to levy a special tax on all taxable property in the limits of the city for the purpose of building and furnishing such house and buying the land. Not more than one such school building can be built in any one year, or shall the tax exceed one-fourth of one per cent. Whenever a primary school becomes necessary, it shall be built as prescribed in the school law passed February 20th, 1880. Whenever repairs on school buildings become necessary a tax shall be levied for this purpose, not to exceed one-fourth of 1 per cent.The board is also authorized to grade the schools, and the city auditor, or a committee of the city council, shall audit the accounts quarterly, and when approved cause them to be published at least one time in some city newspaper. In case of a vacancy occurring, the city council will fill such vacancy by appointment, until the next election.
The bill was read and referred to the committee on education, seventy-five copies being ordered printed.The act in relation to mortgages of personal property was then
the second time, when Councilor Thatcher moved to amend the second section by striking it out and substituting another which he presented. The substitute defined certain kinds of property which could be mortgaged, among which were locomotives, and rolling stock of railroad companies, agricultural and other machinery, steam boilers, the instruments of a surgeon or dentist; the furniture and upholstery of hotels and boarding houses, and professional libraries, these articles only to be subject to mortgage for the unpaid portion of their cost. This amendment caused a little debate, the councilor saying if the bill were passed unamended, that there were some people so improvident that they would soon own nothing.Councilor Wells did not favor the amendment, he would just as soon vote for striking out the enacting clause; as either way would kill the bill. He said a man now has a right to sell any property he may own, and he didnot see why he should be debarred from giving a mortgage if he wanted to. It would give lenders of money security for loans, and would enable men of small means to raise funds when they needed them, and he should vote against the amendment.Councilor E. Snow thought that the passage or non-passage of the bill would work hardships in some cases; and he was not much in favor of the bill anyway; and he presented his bill for chattel mortgages only in response to the petition of some of his constituents.Councilor Caine moved that the bill and the proposed amendment be referred to the committee on judiciary, to see if the list could not be somewhat enlarged. Carried, and bill so referred.Adjourned to 10.30 a.m. Saturday.

HOUSE.

10.30 a.m.

Mr. Peery presented a petition from Richard Belknap, of Weber County, asking for the remittance of certain taxes, amounting in all to $77.51. Referred to the committee on claims and public accounts.A petition of J. V. Robinson, probate judge of Millard County, presented by Mr. Partridge, asking that boundary lines between Millard and Juab counties be definitely established, was referred to the committee on counties.Mr. Farr presented a petition from Thos. Cottle and others of Plain City, Weber County, asking an extension of the time in which water companies may make reports. Referred to the committee on irrigation.Mr. Penrose presented the report of the committee on claims, relative to the petition of W. D. Johnson, jr., for $43.37, and recommended the amount be allowed and placed on the appropriation bill. The recommendation was adopted.Mr. Thurman introduced a bill providing a mode for the changing of names. It provides that applications for the changing of names must be presented to the judicial district in which the petitioner resides, and the petition be acted upon by the district court. Read and referred to the committee on judiciary.Mr. Francis introduced a bill for the election of public administrators. The bill was read and referred to the committee on judiciary. It provides for the election in each county of a public administrator, to hold office for two years, the officer to be elected at each general election.A communication was received from the Council announcing that the Council had passed a bill designating public holidays. The bill was read and laid on the table to come up in its order.The report of the Chancellor and Regents of the University of Deseret, being the special order of the day, was read and referred to the committee on education.Mr. Thurman offered the following resolution, which was adopted: Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Legislative Assembly of Utah, That the Secretary of the Territory be requested to furnish this House, or a committee thereof appointed by the chair, a list of the names of foreign corporations doing business in this territory, and also a list of those that have complied with the provisions of section 11 of an act amendatory of and supplemental to chapter iv, title xi, Compiled Laws.The Council bill to amend section 288, Compiled Laws, was taken up on its second reading.The House bill granting to incorporated cities certain powers was read the third time.A lengthy and earnest discussion followed as to a proviso in the section allowing cities to license, regulate and prohibit the sale of liquor. The proviso made it necessary, in order for the city council of any city to prohibit the sale, for a petition asking for prohibition to be presented to the council, and that it must contain the signatures of two-thirds of the registered voters of such city; and that such prohibition should not take place till six months after the passage of the ordinance.An attempt was made to strike out the proviso, but it failed. It was argued that, according to the wording of the section it would take away, for a time, at least, the prohibitory powers of those cities which are now exercising them.A number of motions were offered and lost, and pending the further consideration of the matter, a recess was taken until 2 p.m.When the House reassembled the discussion was renewed, and an amendment of Mr. Penrose adopted that the law should not apply to these cities already exercising prohibitory powers under law.An amendment of Mr. Thurman was adopted making it two-thirds majority of the inhabitants over 21 years of age.It was then moved to make it a majority instead of two-thirds. The vote on it was a tie—11 on each side —and the Speaker voted in favor of the amendment, and it prevailed.The time allowing saloon keepers to close out was made three months instead of six.Mr. Hatch moved to strike out the enacting clause of the bill.Mr. Preston moved it be laid on the table. Lost.Mr. Preston then moved it to go over till Tuesday next. Lost.Mr. Partridge moved its recommendation to the committee on municipal corporations and towns. The motion prevailed.Mr. Booth, from the committee on municipal corporations and towns, reported back the bill incorporatingvillages, and recommended its passage without amendment, and it was then read the second time by its title.

Adjourned till Monday at 2 p.m.

Narrow Escape.

David Rich narrowly escaped from being crushed to death at the depot on Friday. He was engaged in switching cars at the time and, in a hurry, had moved the switch so as to throw the engine on the wrong track. He was standing on the steps in front of the car when he saw the locomotive was on the wrong track, and was liable to run into some cars on the side track.
He probably could have jumped off and saved himself, but motioned to the engineer to pull up; he did not do so in time, or else the engineer failed to see him, for the cars collided with such force that one of the drawheads was completely broken and knocked all to one side.
Mr. Rich's leg was caught just below the knee and very severely crushed, but so far as could be seen no bones were broken. He at once received medical assistance.

Counterfeiters Caught.

The police have good reason to believe they have caught the individuals who have been raising such a stir here of late in passing counterfeit dollars. On Thursday afternoon Mr. Platt, the harness maker, led a man giving the name of Jas.
Shields, to the City Hall, and charged him with uttering bogus money.
Mr. Platt related that Shields had come to his shop, and in purchasing some articles had changed some money, and given out seven bogus silver dollars. The man was questioned, and at first said he had, himself, had obtained the bad ducats in accommodating a man and woman the night previous at the depot, who wanted change for $10. He said they gave him $3 in gold and five silver dollars. When asked how it was that he had seven bogus dollars when he declared that but five were given him, he was unable to answer. He declared he had never seen the man or woman before. Subsequently he said the man's name was Murray; that he had met Murray here, and that, being strapped, Murray was paying his board bill and had given him the money. He later stated that he and Murray had come here together. On the strength of this the police searched for the man Jas. Murray, and about 3 o'clock on Friday morning discovered him asleep in the Overland House, and made the arrest. Murray denied any connection with the transaction. Shiel also stated that Murray had a companion named Geo. Shepperd, and the officers arrested Shepperd. One of them said he had expressed his valise to Ogden the day previous, and on Friday, to make enquiry about such a valise, but nothing was known of it. The men have made a number of conflicting statements, which lead to the belief that the three men caught are the persons, in fact, who have been uttering the bogus silver dollars which are so plentiful just now.Shiel was up before Judge Pyper on Friday, but before the examination was concluded, the further hearing was postponed until to-day, when it is expected stronger testimony will be forthcoming. Among the things found on these men are some articles which are identified as having been bought by men answering the description of any one of the three—as the case may be—and for which bogus money was paid. The opinion seems to be that the police have the men this time.SWEET APPLE Cider, new shell-

Bingham—Snow Slide—Insane.

BINGHAM, Jan. 24, 1882.

Editors Herald:

The camp is in a state of prosperity. At this date the cold snap has abated, and many miners have resumed work.On last Saturday evening, at 6 o'clock, the day men were called off one of the mines, and three of them, Wm. Caruthers, Mat Welch, and Louis Gadalo, started for the boarding house. No sooner had they got fairly on the way than the waste dump and snow started to slide down the hill, and in about three seconds—or less time than it takes to tell it—the three men were rolling and tumbling down the hill, a distance of over 60 feet. Mr. Caruthers rode the slide like a boy on a board, while the other two were plunging, screaming and yelling for help. Sometimes their heels were up, sometimes down; but no one was hurt.Russell, the assayer, has gone insane. It took three men to watch him before he was sent to Salt Lake for treatment. This is the second time he has been off. About four years ago he was supposed to have drowned himself in the Jordan; but was subsequently found on the river bank. He was treated and seemed to recover, and at times was perfectly rational. He is a great believer in spiritualism.

Mrs. Cannon's Funeral.

It has been decided that Mrs.
Cannon's funeral will take place on Sunday morning. The following dispatch was received from Hon.
Geo. Q. Cannon on Friday, in response to the notification of his wife's death:

WASHINGTON, D. C.,

January 26.

To Angus M. Cannon.

Keep the children constantly in company. They must not yield to grief. Have no gloomy trappings at the funeral; no black about the coffin. Make it of natural wood; mountain wood, if possible, varnished and comely. Bury next to the children in my lot. Cannot show too much respect to her worth, but avoid everything like a painful impression on the children. If she expressed wishes, execute them. Write them in full and send me a copy.
Tell the children for my sake to bear up.

GEORGE Q. CANNON.

The necessary preparations for the funeral had been making since the lamented demise of the noble lady in anticipation of the funeral, and on the receipt of the above dispatch, its requirements commenced to be complied with. It was decided to hold the funeral services in the Fourteenth Ward Assembly Rooms, commencing at 10 o'clock on Sunday morning next. The reason for choosing the Assembly Rooms is because of the large number of relatives and friends who will desire to attend and because of historical associations. The Fourteenth Ward Assembly Rooms were built while her father was bishop of the ward; her husband—Mr. Cannon—once owned the lot on which the building stands; Mrs. Cannon, herself, at one time taught school in it; and for other reasons.At 9.30 o'clock a procession, consisting of the relatives of the family, will form at the place where the remains now lie, and accompany all that is left of the estimable lady to the Assembly Rooms, where the services will be held. All are invited to attend.STILL A complete assortment of
